

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to the use of the alkaloid K252 and its analogues or derivatives to prepare topical drugs for the treatment of disorders characterised by hyperproliferation of keratinocytes.